

CALLING ALL RETIRED SALES PROS FIGHTING BOREDOM...

We want your years of experience, training and knowledge. Set your own hours and make as much as you want while living life on your terms. This sales role is perfect for the seasoned sales pro who has already retired from a career in “big ticket sales.” We love sales executives in the second half of their career who want to work in a fun environment with flexible hours and lots of opportunity. Only want to work three days per week? No problem – if you can sell. Need to be done by 2PM each day? Fine with us. Leave at Noon if you’ve closed a big deal by then. Earn a huge commission while representing a high-integrity company and sharing your knowledge with us. This opportunity is in the consulting/accounting industry but we hire experienced, star performers not backgrounds. If you are a “people person” with a decade or more of sales skills under your belt, we want to talk to you. You need to be great on the telephone and have powerful persuasive skills. Part time, full time, second career, third career or fourth career if you are a terrific presenter and communicator and a barracuda closer we want to meet you.

HOW WE PAY

This is a commission-based position with a monthly draw. You can make as much as you’d like and you set your own hours. This is NOT a passive order-taking job. This is an aggressive outbound sales, opportunity with objective measurement, which will directly impact your compensation. This is also NOT a network marketing job. This is a real sales position, in a real bookkeeping company. It is an opportunity for an outstanding sales professional with competitive compensation to match.
